FORWARD TO REVISION 1

I would like briefly to note the changes in this revised edition of the holiness bibliography.

The most obvious is the new format which was suggested by Rev. Duane V. Maxey. Hopefully this will make the work easier to read and to use.

The second change, also thanks to Rev. Maxey's Holiness Data Ministry CD, is the addition of over one thousand and fifty titles to the original work which brings the total to just under four thousand titles.

The third change is the elimination of the Appendix 3 which listed the one hundred best, in my opinion, authors. This has been removed because it is my intention to write a companion volume to this titled, "A Survey of Holiness Literature" which will look at the authors and their writings from the early church age to the present.

I would like to thank my brother in the Lord, Duane Maxey, for publishing my bibliography on his CD and also to thank Dr. George Lyons of the Wesley Center of Northwest Nazarene University for publishing it on their WEB Site.

It is my prayer that this new revision will be a blessing to you as well as a valuable tool.

INTRODUCTION

The doctrine of Entire Sanctification or Holiness is the cap sheaf of all Christian doctrine. The experience of Entire Sanctification is the highest spiritual experience a person can receive in this life. The sanctified believer is filled with the Holy Spirit, freed from the old carnal nature, made perfect in love and filled with the joy of a pure heart.

For those readers who may not be familiar with the doctrine and experience of sanctification, let me state it as simply as possible. When Adam sinned in the garden, the entire human race was warped and bent with an inward desire for sin and selfishness. Every baby is born with this carnal nature. As time passes and we grow, there comes a time when we realize that some of our actions are wrong and that realization brings guilt. That guilt separates us from God and can only be dealt with by His forgiveness. In His love, which sent Jesus to die to make salvation in all its fullness available to every person, our Heavenly Father sends the Holy Spirit to convict us of our sins and the guilt they caused. He tells us of the future which will be ours if we don't avail ourselves of His great gift and follows us until we are ready to repent and turn in Godly sorrow to Him for His forgiveness. At the end of the repentance process our faith takes hold and we are born again as new creatures in Christ. This is a wondrous experience, knowing personally that all our sins are forgiven. Everything is gloriously new. We love things we once avoided and avoid things we once loved. We begin to fellowship with God in prayer and in His word with a hunger that continually grows.

But we soon realize that as wonderful as it is, there is still in us the old nature which led us into sin and guilt in the first place. Jesus death on the cross provided the remedy for that as well. The old nature can be crucified, put to death, eradicated. If you take a water glass and put a few stones and some sand and dirt in it, then fill it the rest of the way with water, the glass is full, but not full of water. In order for the glass to be full of water it needs to have everything else emptied out, then it can be filled with water. When we are born again, the Holy Spirit comes to us, but we have stones and sand and dirt left in our vessel. The path to sanctification is similar to the path to salvation only now total consecration or death to self replaces repentance. At the end of the commitment process, we need to step out in faith that He sanctifies the gift. The Holy Spirit comes to crucify the old nature and empty all the dirt and fill us with Himself. In this, the holiest experience in this life, His Spirit bears witness to our hearts that we are cleansed and made pure in heart. Joy and blessing flows to us unhindered. What an indescribably glorious experience is ours. The God of the universe has made us His children by forgiving our sins and made us clean through and through by sanctifying us wholly.

If you are interested in a study of the doctrine of holiness in detail, I suggest that you read Harry Jessop's book, "Foundations of Doctrine", which is in my opinion the best theology of holiness.

* * *

The second work of grace is clearly taught throughout the whole Bible.

In the Old Testament, Joel talks about a coming day when God will pour out His Spirit. Ezekiel tell us that there is coming a new covenant and under it God will remove the heart of stone and give a heart of flesh. Jacob wrestled with "The Angel" at Peniel which was his second blessing experience. Examples such as these could be multiplied many times over from the Old Testament.

As we turn to the New Testament we find John the Baptist saying one was coming after him who would baptize people with the Holy Ghost and fire. Jesus clearly taught the need for a pure heart. He said the greatest commandment is to Love God with all our heart and soul and mind and strength which is an impossibility with a nature which doesn't love God, but wants it's own way. He prayed for His disciples to be sanctified and told them to tarry at Jerusalem until they were filled with the Holy Spirit.

The book of Acts is filled with accounts of believers being filled with the Holy Spirit. On the Day of Pentecost the 120 disciples were all filled. The disciples at Jerusalem sent Peter and John to Philip's new converts in Samaria for the express purpose that they might receive the Holy Spirit. Paul was filled with the Holy Spirit under the ministry of a believer named Ananias three days after his conversion on the road to Damascus. The gentile believers in the house of Cornelius were filled when Peter came to preach. The believers at Ephesus, who were disciples of John the Baptist, were taught about the filling of the Holy Spirit by Paul and were all filled.

Sanctification is the grand theme of the epistles. Paul, James, Peter, John and Jude all taught the death to self and the Baptism with the Holy Spirit. One example from Ephesians should suffice. "If so be that ye have heard Him, and have been taught by Him, as the truth is in Jesus: that ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness. (Eph. 4:21-24)

* * *

The early church taught the experience, but gradually churchiness replaced spirituality and the church became cold and formal and dead. During these dark ages there were remarkable exception who shine with radiant glory. A monk named Brother Lawrence wrote a little book of his experience called, "The Practice of the Presence of God". There were men and women like Fenelon and Madam Guyon who taught being fully consecrated and fully filled. Men like Thoms A' Kempis, William Law and others urged the dead church to repent and individuals to seek to be filled with the Spirit of God.

With Martin Luther in the 1500's, came the reformation, but the rebirth of the teaching of holiness in it's purity by a group of people rather than by individuals had to wait another hundred years. It may come as a surprise to some holiness believers, but the first group to teach holiness preceded John Wesley and the Methodist revival by almost a hundred years. George Fox and his band of persecuted Quakers clearly taught the need of every believer to be Baptized with the Holy Ghost. Quakers today still teach and experience entire sanctification as a second work of grace. But because Quakers were not doctrinally oriented, rather putting emphasis on the experience, it took the Methodist's to develop the doctrine.

The Wesleyan revival laid the foundation for a systematic theology of holiness and it developed from there to where it is today. There is no way to fully state the importance of what John and Charles Wesley did for the teaching of holiness. The revival which accompanied them throughout England without a doubt spared that nation a bloody revolution like the one in France. Men and women were converted and later filled with the Holy Spirit under the preaching of the Wesleys and their followers and began to write concerning their experiences and to develop the theology of holiness. Thus began the rich heritage of holiness literature which is the subject of this bibliography.

Methodism quickly spread to America and the circuit rider took the Word to the wilderness. Some were holy dedicated men like Francis Asbury, and there were also some who were quaint such as Peter Cartwright, and there was one who was really strange named Lorenzo Dow. Small Methodist churches sprang up and the truth of holiness took root throughout those early settlements.

From these early beginnings came men and women of God who stood for the truth. When the fires began to burn low, God would raise up others to spread the message that the Christian can have a second work of grace which cleanses his heart and fills him with the Spirit. One of the greatest awakenings was that which centered around John Inskip, and Dr Walter and Mrs. Phoebe Palmer.

It is the nature of a fire to go out if not continually fed and stirred. A large fire is most difficult to keep burning and tends to burn down in the center while the edges stay hot. This happened to the Methodists and soon splinter groups broke away which kept the fires of holiness burning until they too began to burn down.

The 19th and 20th centuries were the zenith of the holiness movement. Denominations were formed and a vast body of literature was written to help men and women find the experience of perfect love and to grow to maturity in it. Books and pamphlets multiplied to guide and instruct believers in their Christian walk. Much of the writings found it's way to library shelves and was soon dust covered and forgotten.

Toward the end of the 20th century as the world entered the computer age, one man had a vision of using the computer as a tool and he began to make holiness literature available, first on a web site, then on CD. Duane Maxey has been and continues to be a pioneer in making the writings of the holiness men and women of the past, which would either be lost or still gathering dust on library shelves, available to everyone who is interested. Following his lead and using a lot of the material he made available to them are Walter King, Sulu Kelley and Dr. Eugene Lyons who have also put holiness literature on CD or the Internet.

* * *

The purpose of this work is to attempt to list every piece ever written by those who believed in holiness. That, being a lofty goal, will never realize fulfillment. Some day someone will spot another unknown work by a holiness writer on the bookshelves of some used bookstore and a new work will be added. Then too, there are still those writing new works every day so the work will grow in that way as well. It is my plan that this will be a living document and already a large revision is in the planning stages. One factor which makes an immediate revision necessary is that almost all of the research you have before you was done in the late 1950's and early 1960's. Things found or written since then need to be added.

The process of research for a work of this kind involves looking in library catalogs for leads. Finding the list of publications by a company which specialized in holiness literature is a treasure beyond compare. Many times a book will list other works by the same author and publishers put mini catalogs in the last few pages. I was able to do research in the libraries at Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute, Van Cleve, KY and Bethel College, Mishawaka, IN while I was a student there. I ran across the catalog from Christian Witness Company and was helped greatly by J. Edwin Newby who sold used books, especially holiness books, to supplement his income as a Quaker pastor in Indiana.

It is inevitable that works would be included in a bibliography like this which should not be included because the writers didn't believe in holiness. I welcome any knowledge concerning books to add or to delete from any reader. There are also a few authors who are included who were not holiness writers, but who wrote things which will be of help to the sanctified who want to get closer to Jesus. Among that group are Oswald Chambers, John Henry Jowett, Andrew Murray, Norman Grubb, John Owens and several more.

At the end of the book list are two appendices. The first lists the main publishers listed which were greatly abbreviated in order to save room. The second lists some holiness magazines from the past. I welcome suggestions for inclusion or exclusion in appendix 2.

Enjoy and be blessed by your trip through this bibliography.
